

DEC 5 - PUSHING GORMAN

Sled conditions in Golden remain consistent with many riders exploring on the early season snow. Quartz is now open 7 days a week and we are pushing into Gorman this week. There's approx 15 cm of snow in the forecast and some sun as well. Avalanche conditions have been quite manageable but are set to spike on Saturday as the new snow falls. There's news about logging near the Quartz creek parking lot so keep reading to hear the latest.

SledGolden will be updating our website and social media channels in terms of how this project will affect our operations. At the very least, the truck parking lot near the kiosk will be closed during this time.

New Silent Pass Mobile Emergency Shelter /Warming Hut

We have exciting news. We are pleased to announce that we will have a new mobile cabin at Silent Pass this year. We plan to put the cabin near the end of the groomed trail and it will serve as a great warming spot on the Silent Pass ride. This year the parking lot is forecast to be at the 17 km, which means it will be a long ride in to the riding area this year. Having our warming cabin at the end of the trail should serve as a nice break spot. Check out this instagram video for more info.

Snow & Weather

SNOW AND WEATHER

The big bomb cyclone dump that we had earlier in the month delivered an excellent base for us. While the snowpack is settling to about 90-100 cms the coverage is quite good and it is supportive to sledding. There is still a lot of powder in the bowls where people haven't been playing too much. Lots of early season hazards exist so tread carefully, but this is the best early season we've had in a couple years for sure.

Looks like 15-20 cms if forecast in our mountains, with the majority coming on Saturday. Temps will warm up during the storm and then look like they will cool down again after.
